In re Application of: limori

Examination of Application #10/534,069

1. Claims 1-15 of application 10/534,069, filed on 6-May-2005, are presented for examination.

Specification Objections

2. The disclosure is objected to because several of the lines in the specification contain words that are compressed to form a continuous line of letters, which renders the line difficult to read and understand. Examples are, but not limited to: [p. 1, lns. 10 and 24], [p. 9, ln. 18].

Also, the phrase "clamped at least two points" [p. 1, l. 9] appears to be grammatically incorrect, and is understood to mean "at least at".

Claim Rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 112, 2nd Paragraph

3. Claims 1, 7, 8, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The following is a list of the specific rejections:

claim 1	line 2	The phrase "bending life span(s) of a plurality" is vague.
claim 7	line 3	The phrase "from being bent induced by" is vague.
claim 8	line 3	The phrase "natural frequencies of the plurality of wires are computed, respectively" is vague and indefinite as it is unclear if the natural frequencies is referring to each individual wire or the plurality of wires (as a whole).

In re Application of: limori

claim 12 line 5 The phrase "of typical atmosphere" is vague and indefinite.

Claim Objections

4. Claims 2-6 and 9-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Allowed Claims

5. Claims 1-15 are deemed allowable over the prior art of record at this time, pending resolution of any rejections noted above, because the prior art does not specifically claim a bending life predicting method of predicting bending life span(s) of a plurality of wires induced by vibration, at least two points of each of the plurality of wires being constrained, including:

pre-storing each predicting function representing relationships among atmosphere temperatures, stresses and bending life spans for the plurality of wires;

setting the plurality of wires, the atmosphere temperatures, pre-vibration shapes of the plurality of wires, and constraint conditions of the plurality of wires;

forming finite element models of the plurality of wires by using a finite element method;

calculating natural frequencies for the pre-vibration shapes and calculating stresses in individual finite elements of the finite element models which correspond to the natural frequencies, respectively;

retrieving a maximum stress from the stresses calculated in the vibration analyzing step, for each of the plurality of wires;

In re Application of: limori

reading predicting functions corresponding to the atmosphere temperatures set in the setting step, respectively;

acquiring a bending life span corresponding to the maximum stress of each of the plurality of wires while referring to the predicting functions read out in the predicting function readout step, and obtaining a shortest bending life span from the bending life spans; and outputting the shortest bending life span obtained in the bending life predicting step.
